Messages and reminders

All the children have really enjoyed celebrating World Book Day today. There have been some wonderful costumes but more importantly, there have been some great books shared! I hope your child enjoys their free WBD book if they chose one or that they enjoy spending their voucher soon. See below for photos!

Reading Volunteer

This week we were so excited to welcome the newest member of staff to School! Mikey the dog visited for his first settling session as he is now a 'Canine Concern' ambassador and will be listening to children read and generally bringing a doggy sense of calm and wonder to the children and staff.

We have recently started a new process for registering reading volunteers. Please email the office if you would like to join us as a reading volunteer and we will send a pack home.

Cross County

We had 4 teams competing at the Cross-Country relays at Colfox this week. All children did really well and showed great determination and perseverance. Special mentions go to our Y3/4 team (Elsie, Niamh, Peter and Henry) who ran exceptionally well and came 5th overall. Niamh also deserves a special mention for her fantastic support of all the other runners – what a great sporting attitude!

We Love Reading!

Porky and Maurice our EYFS guinea pigs love reading and we know so many of you do as well. It's not too late to send in to the office a picture of your child this weekend with their favourite book or perhaps reading in their favourite place or to their favourite person/toy/pet!

Clubs

No Football Club on Monday (6 March).

All other clubs are on as usual.

The Friends

Are you following 'Friends of Burton Bradstock School' on Facebook? All members of the school community are encouraged to join and it is a great way to learn about what is on and any online initiatives set up by parents to help the school

Celebration Worship

Little Chicks have started their topic 'Dangerous Dinosaurs'.

Robins have been learning about the Great Fire of London.

Kingfishers have been learning about the Earth's layers in geography. They made clay models to show what they have learnt.

Owls went to Washingpool farm on Tuesday.
